WELCOME

We are delighted to introduce the 2023/24 Northern Powerhouse Export Champions. They are companies from across the North of England who are dedicated to growing their exports, and who have made a commitment to helping other companies do the same – increasing prosperity and growing GDP by seizing the opportunities offered by trading in a global market.

This is the 10th Anniversary of the Export Champions programme, which was first launched in the North West in 2013, and has since gone from strength to strength, with more businesses joining each year.

Our Export Champions represent a wide range of sectors, and all will be working with DBT to complement our services, generously giving their time to motivate and assist other businesses on their export journeys and leading by example as they continue to win new international business and reach out to new markets themselves.

I am delighted to introduce our Northern Powerhouse Export Champions for 2023/24. This is an extra special year as it is the 10th Anniversary of the Champions which began in the North in 2013. Since I joined the Northern Powerhouse, visiting and learning from Export Champions is one of the best parts of my role, and your advice and guidance has been essential to both exporters and DBT over the years.

From humble beginnings with just 34 Champions in the North West, we now have 108 Export Champions from the North East, North West, and Yorkshire & Humber, out of nearly 400 across England and the Nations. Of those inaugural 34, amazingly we have eight of the original Champions who are still, to this day, inspiring our Northern companies – you can spot who they are later in this brochure! Export Champions benefit from being part of a network of like-minded exporters, and from being able to feed into DBT policy. They share their learning and experiences with new and prospective exporters, giving encouragement and support about the benefits of selling overseas. The importance of that role cannot be overstated: this is not something Government can do alone. You have credibility with other exporters, and your wisdom and experiences hold enormous weight and credibility with other businesses.

Giving up your time voluntarily is something we are hugely grateful for, and I hope that you are able to take advantage of the benefits we have to offer you. For instance, the opportunities to meet our Ministers, network with other Export Champions across the North, and to work with us as we develop new ways to help exporters across the UK.

The next year will be interesting and rewarding. As a Department, we will continue with our extensive and world-beating Free-Trade negotiations with the aim of driving up the number of British exporters.

I look forward to spending time with you this year, and to ensure that your roles championing Northern exporters are heard loud and clear across the Department. Thank you again.

Mottie and Maggie Kessler are the dynamic duo behind the success of the 2M Group of Companies. With Mottie serving as the Chairman & CEO and Maggie as the Export Director and Assistant Chairman & CEO, they have built a global company renowned for its excellence in international trade.

Maintaining a portfolio of Material & Life Science businesses, the 2M Group of Companies is committed to delivering chemistry-based solutions for a better life today and a better world tomorrow. Head quartered in the UK and with an international presence in: Benelux, Brazil, China, France, Germany, Italy, Nordics, Poland, Spain, South Africa and the USA, the group exports to customers in over 90 countries.

Mottie Kessler OBE, one of the founders of the 2M Group of Companies, has years of experience in the chemical industry. His strategic guidance and deep understanding of international markets have propelled the group's expansion and cemented its position within the chemical industry. Dr. Maggie Kessler OBE, brings her exceptional management skills and experience to help develop the 2M Group of Companies and oversee its day-to-day operations in exporting across the globe.

A top exporting tip from the 2M Group of companies is to prioritize building strong relationships with overseas partners. Cultivating trust, understanding cultural nuances, and investing in long-term collaborations can significantly enhance export opportunities and contribute to lasting success in international trade.

ADVANCED ELECTRICAL MACHINES LTD

David Hunter
Senior Business Development Manager

Advanced Electric Machines (AEM) designs and manufactures a range of next-generation sustainable electric powertrain technologies to drive the progress of net zero solutions for electric vehicles. AEM's electric motors eliminate rare earth materials and copper windings to create a fully recyclable solution with no compromise to performance or efficiency. These solutions allow their customers to travel further with a lower environmental footprint than conventional motors.

AEM exports to customers across Europe, India, South East Asia and Australasia in a variety of markets including cars, trucks, buses and off-highway vehicles. Over the last couple of years, AEM has been working closely with partners in South East Asia, Australia and New Zealand to provide prototypes and secure long-term orders for their rapidly growing electrification markets.

David joined AEM to develop these partnerships and projects, and with the support of the DBT he has successfully reached new markets, opportunities and customers.

David's top exporting tip: "I would strongly advise any company looking to export to work with the DBT. From trade shows and international visits to networking and advice, the DBT opens an array of opportunities for partnerships whilst supporting you at every step."

ABI ELECTRONICS LTD

Willian Santos
International Sales Manager

ABI has been a leading manufacturer of sustainable electronic diagnostic and reverse engineering equipment since 1983. The company's hardware and software products are widely used to extend the service life of electronic circuit boards which are vital for sectors such as defence, aerospace, rail, automotive, energy, semiconductor manufacturing, among other sectors. ABI has been exporting its products worldwide since 1985 through a network of distributors and social media in recent years. ABI has enjoyed a good relationship with DBT (and previous iterations) since 1997 with over 20 high-profile Export Wins reported in the last two years.

Willian says "For me it's paramount that British SMEs consider exporting a priority and integral to their long-term strategy. Exporting is the best way to shield the business against crisis, recession and economic turmoil that have become increasingly common nowadays. Build a multicultural team with language and international experience wherever possible. Focus on establishing long-term relationships with clients and partners abroad first and business growth will follow."

AESSEAL PLC

Chris Rea CBE
Managing Director

Chris Rea is the M.D. of AES Engineering Ltd a business with 1930 employees and direct operations in 41 countries with exports to 100 plus. The Group manufactures environmental products and is also creating a global reliability offering based on data collection from its own IoT instruments, cloud computing, automated reporting, Automated Diagnostic Assistant, licensed software, and world leading condition monitoring experts.

AESSEAL has a target to be the Number One supplier of products to the global Minerals and Mining Industry and in 2023 has made 2 acquisitions in Australia and is negotiating a Joint Venture in Chile. It is actively negotiating a JV in Japan and an acquisition in South Korea.

AVT, the condition monitoring business, is expanding its footprint globally through a combination of innovation and acquisitions to gain market access in Europe, Canada and most recently the USA.

Chris' top exporting tip: Decide you want to export.

AGENCIA CONSULTING LTD

Helen Gibson MBE
Managing Director

Agencia are trailblazers in making sustainable change happen. They are different because they not only design organisational change, but make it happen, turning strategy into action and action into results, ultimately delivering work that changes lives for the better. They have a team of industry experts with years of on-the-ground experience in a range of diverse fields within health and social care, justice, policing and security.

For over 22 years, Agencia's work has addressed a diverse range of challenging issues both in the UK and internationally, delivering over 450 contracts. They have reformed government judicial capabilities, transformed healthcare services, developed integrated strategies for organisations, improved communities and ultimately changed lives.

Over 50% of Agencia's work is delivered outside the UK, with markets including Europe, Africa and the USA. Agencia aims to grow its work in the Western Balkans, East Africa and Eastern Europe.

AIM QUALIFICATIONS & ASSESSMENT GROUP

Fabienne Bailey
Interim Director for Business Growth and Transformation

AIM Group is a national and international awarding organisation with over 30 years in supporting the education and skills sector. With offices in the North East and the Midlands, AIM Group supports education and skills providers across the UK with a broad range of product and services including regulated Qualifications, End Point Assessment Services for Apprenticeship Standards, Access to Higher Education Diplomas, bespoke accreditation, training and consultancy services.

AIM Group successfully delivers its ESOL qualifications to centres across the globe including in South America, Europe, Africa and South East Asia. With a growing international footprint, AIM Group is building relationships with more international customers and partners with a particular focus on the higher education sector and how we can bridge the gap and widen participation for otherwise disadvantaged learners and communities.

With 23 years in the further and higher education, Fabienne is very experienced in growing business in these sectors and has a wealth of knowledge to support other organisations.

Her top exporting tip for international business is to take time to research the admin involved in your international trade e.g. shipping and courier arrangements and more importantly how you can get paid from different countries.

AIRCARDS LTD

Lewis Collins
Chief Commercial Officer

Aircards is an industry-leading creative production agency that specialises in the design and development of world class immersive experiences. The company provides an end-to-end service for clients, including creative ideation, content production, technical development, cloud hosting and performance analytics. Their enterprise clients include the likes of Verizon Media, Coca-Cola, Pepsi, Warner Bros, Unilever, BT and Anheuser-Busch.

Aircards primary export market is the USA, where they have developed strong client and partner relationships. They also export to the EU and to the Middle East. Highlight export market projects includes the likes of Warba World, a cross-platform multiplayer mobile game for Warba Bank in Kuwait, as well as the Pepsi Halftime Super Bowl experience launched across North America which featured Grammy-award winning artist, The Weeknd.

Their top exporting tip: to get people on-the-ground in your target exporting countries. Whilst virtual prospecting works, nothing beats face-to-face rapport building, especially for creating long-lasting client or partner relationships.

ATMOS INTERNATIONAL LTD

Daniel Short
Senior Vice President
Commercial

Atmos International (Atmos) is a leading technology company, with innovative software and hardware solutions for pipeline leak and theft detection, simulation and optimization.

In the area of leak and theft detection, Atmos utilizes a combination of technologies including statistical flow balance and negative pressure wave analysis. These systems enable real-time monitoring of pipelines, swiftly identifying and localizing leaks and thefts to prevent environmental damage, economic loss and to ensure pipeline integrity and security. Additionally, Atmos offers pipeline simulation tools that assist operators in creating accurate models of their infrastructure to facilitate risk assessment, operational decision-making and optimization.

Atmos serves clients globally, exporting their solutions to over 60 countries across North and Latin America, Europe, the Middle East, Africa and Asia-Pacific. Atmos plans to diversify by expanding into new sectors including the water industry where leakage management is vital.

Daniel Short, Senior VP Commercial at Atmos has been with the company for 20 years, with customer facing experience in project engineering and management culminating in taking responsibility for the global sales and marketing.

A top tip would be to understand that there are regional differences and be prepared to adapt the marketing message and sales approach accordingly. Visit countries of interest and listen to advice from the locals.

Investing time to carefully earn trust and develop interpersonal relationships, especially in high-context cultures, is critical to success.

Keith has multi-cultural fluency and excellent diplomacy, building international partnerships to create value in many countries for more than 30 years, including USA, Japan and ANZ. With more than a decade of experience in China, he is leading Brandon Medical's strategic expansion into the largest market in the World for medical products.

Adrian says "Our advice to other companies looking to export would be to make sure you have the right partners in market. Invest in your distribution people, train and support them and treat them as part of your sales team."

BRIGGS AUTOMOTIVE COMPANY (BAC-MONO) LTD

Neill Briggs
Founding Director

Briggs Automotive Company (BAC) is the British manufacturer behind the world's only road-legal, single-seater supercars – the BAC Mono and BAC Mono R. The Liverpool-based business was founded in 2009 by brothers Neill and Ian Briggs, who set about delivering a pinnacle road vehicle that offers the most authentic and purest driving experience possible.

BAC exports 90% of the cars it produces to more than 46 different countries across five continents – and counting, with dealership agreements in place in Germany, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, Singapore, Taiwan and the USA. It is currently exploring opportunities for further growth across Europe and in the Middle East. Thanks to BAC's supply chain being 95% UK-based, with 50% sourced from within the Liverpool City and North West regions, Mono and Mono R serve as a global showcase for UK manufacturing and innovation — Mono R is the world's first production car to incorporate graphene in its construction.

Neill's top exporting tip: "Embrace innovation – continuously innovate your products and processes to meet evolving customer demands and gain a competitive edge in global markets."

BRITISH STEEL LTD

David Waive
Commercial Director

Manufacturing 2.8 million tonnes per year, British Steel was re-established in 2016 and the company has been exporting ever since. Prior to that the company exported under its previous names of Tata Steel and Corus. It has a range of product lines, including special profiles for the mining and forklift industries, wire rod, passenger rail and sections for the construction market.

Approximately 60% of the company's output is exported. Total sales revenue is £1.2 billion, of which £700 million comes from export markets. They are a global supplier, but the EU and North America are their most significant markets with expansion into Brazil and India in the coming years.

David Waive advises "Select your targets carefully and focus on delivering the competitive edge you offer versus the domestic competition."

CARD INDUSTRY PROFESSIONALS LTD

Ciaran Savage
Director

Established in 2017, Card Industry Professionals (CIP) formed to ensure that all businesses have access to the latest and most relevant card payment solutions, education on pricing, alternative payment options, emerging trends and on-going support. They believe in developing long term relationships with businesses throughout the UK, boosting confidence and building trust in the products and services they offer.

CIP focus on supporting SME's and independent merchants, particularly operating within retail, hospitality and leisure and can support merchants working within services, trades and other verticals.

In 2021, CIP were finalists at the Card & Payments Awards in the categories for 'Best Payments Industry Newcomer' and 'Innovation in Retail Payments' alongside well-established and prominent companies such as Barclays, Lloyds/RBS, Mastercard and Square.

Director, Ciaran Savage says, "There is a great opportunity to approach, attract and interact with businesses in new markets through exporting. There is a lot of support and guidance available through the Department for Business and Trade and I recommend engaging with a local trade advisor to explore opportunities and build upon your knowledge of potential markets to export in to."

CHARGEPOINT TECHNOLOGY LTD

Chris Eccles
Chief Executive Officer

ChargePoint Technology is the market leader in manufacturing powder containment and aseptic transfer valves, providing operator safety and sterility assurance for highly potent ingredients used in the pharmaceutical, biotech, chemical and other process industries.

Joe Formisano
Owner

DeliVita is an independent British brand based in West Yorkshire that has designed and created a stylish, portable, handcrafted, wood-fired oven, alongside a range of purpose-made accessories. The name DeliVita derives from the words 'delicious life'. Joe comes from an Italian family so food and family have always been at the heart of every occasion; he wanted to create a brand which fuses British innovation and craftsmanship with Italian family heritage.

DeliVita started working with a DBT International Trade Adviser in 2017 to get an idea of how to attend shows in Europe, with a further look into how they could potentially break into the US market. Keen to understand how attending these shows could prove beneficial to overall sales and the development of the company, DeliVita attended the 'Spoga Gafa' in Cologne, 2018. At the show, they were able to demonstrate the ovens in use, showing prospective customers their full potential.

Since starting exporting, the company's business has doubled its turnover, as well as breaking into markets that were at one point inconceivable.

Joe said "The DeliVita brand now has such a widespread reach and high-profile reputation that we now have more companies asking to stock our ovens than ever before. The growth in our businesses from exporting has also allowed us to increase our staffing, purchase new premises and expand on our manufacturing. We really don't believe this would have been possible without the support we received from DBT who have helped to start the exporting process."

FAITH IN NATURE LTD

Adeel Nabi
International Channel
Director

Faith In Nature, based in Manchester, was founded by Rivka Rose in 1974. In 1974, natural, cruelty-free and vegan weren’t so much a bandwagon as a one-man band. Or, in Faith In Nature’s case, a one-woman band. Because Faith In Nature isn’t just a name - it’s Rivka’s passion for harnessing the power of Nature, without harming it in the process. Now, it seems, Rivka’s passion has caught on.

Faith In Nature is a family care brand, producing natural soaps, body wash, laundry liquids and even dog shampoos, which are manufactured in Greater Manchester. Faith In Nature export to 38 markets including France, USA, Australia, China and were the first company to put Nature on their board of directors, a landmark decision that puts Nature at the heart of their decision making.

Adeel brings over 10 years of international sales experience, having worked from small start-ups to brands that have been around for over 100 years.

Adeel’s top export tip would be always take the time to ensure your route to market is the right one and always try to work with partners who’s values align with your business.

MASON'S OF YORKSHIRE LTD

Karl Mason
Managing Director

Karl launched Mason's of Yorkshire on World Gin Day in 2013, with his wife Cathy. The distillery was the first and original established in the county and was started with a simple mission: to create gin the way it should be, with more character, more flavour and uncompromising quality.

Through strong growth within the premium gin category, diversifying successfully into vodka, and surviving a fire in 2019 that nearly destroyed the business, Mason's has won over 100 of the world's prestigious awards. These include gold awards at the World Gin and Vodka Awards, and the International Wine & Spirit Competition (with Mason's Tea Edition becoming the most awarded Tea Gin in the world) as well as the highly regarded San Francisco Spirits Competition. The Mason's team remains devoted to making exceptional, distinctive gin and vodka.

Export is a key growth channel for Mason's, and they are interested in developing their business in all key gin and vodka markets around the world. They currently export to Australia, Denmark, France, Netherlands, Poland, Hungary, Lithuania, Spain, Bermuda, Seychelles with potential new markets being India and USA.

Karl is passionate about the quality of their products and his top tip would be "Be patient, it's as competitive exporting as the home market."

Danny Manu attests to the transformative power of exporting. Despite the initial trepidation caused by customs duties, regulations, financing methods, and diverse customer behaviors, the rewards are immeasurable when triumph is achieved. Exporting is the key to unlocking your true potential, transcending boundaries, and reaping the rich rewards that lie beyond.

MICROPORE TECHNOLOGIES LTD

Dai Hayward
Chief Executive Officer

Micropore Technologies has developed an award winning, fully integrated technology solution – from lab to full manufacturing — to enable manufacturers of formulated products to improve their speed to market, product performance and economics by delivering increased control over their development and manufacturing processes for complex drug products; including RNA vaccines and other nano-particle based therapies, as well as controlled release injectables in the microparticle size range.

Clients have reported on significantly reduced development times and increased speed to market, the elimination of waste, and simplification of their manufacturing processes – all with a low energy process that helps clients achieve their ESG goals. Sectors include pharmaceutical, agrochemical, food, household products, aerospace plus many others.

Around 80% of the company's turnover is exports and since 2010 they have been exporting to the USA, Europe, Canada, India and SE Asia.

Micropore Technologies has a fulltime presence in India and the USA. Micropore also has distributors in Japan and Australia.

Chief Executive Officer, Dai Hayward says "Exporting doesn't have to be daunting but does require patience and a long-term commitment. Do your market and cultural research, visit the market and make sure you work to develop relationships first. Business will follow. Make use of the in-country experts from DBT for help. They are only too willing to assist companies on their export journey."

MIKE PRITCHETT ASSOCIATE

Mike Pritchett
Consultant

A medical equipment industry specialist, Mike spent almost 20 years building Yorkshire-based Anetic Aid Ltd's export business, supporting strong relationships with its worldwide network of Distributors.

That support involved in-country training of sales teams – accompanying them to customer demonstrations and trade shows to ensure they could communicate the benefits of sophisticated products effectively. These included the company's QA4 Mobile Surgery System and Mike was instrumental in promoting the concept and growth of day surgery, particularly in Europe. His expertise comes from his 20 years in theatre for the NHS prior to joining Anetic Aid.

Mike was also responsible for many behind-the-scenes aspects of export planning: logistics, documentation and regulation across the world and particularly in Europe, Latin America and the US.

After retiring formally from Anetic Aid, Mike continues to work for the company on a consultancy basis as well as supporting a number of other businesses embarking on international trade development.

Top exporting tip: "Planning and research is time well spent, but you can never stop listening and learning: nothing stands still in today's fast-moving world and export is affected by many factors."

OE ELECTRICS LTD

PANELTEX LTD

David Evenett
Group Sales Director

Paneltex is a leading commercial vehicle body builder, specialising in the design and manufacture of temperature-controlled vehicles, from the largest trailers to the smallest vans. The company manufacture thousands of vehicle bodies and storage systems out of five UK factories for the UK, European and North American markets.

Paneltex's main export is a vehicle body kit for home grocery shopping, designed to be assembled easily and quickly. They are seeing huge export growth for this product in the USA and Canada, as well as growth in the Northern Europe market. The company have found that success in export is very much about understanding the culture and market that you are aiming to work within, and the importance of advice and help.

Dave Evenett, Group Sales Director would like to say he had years to plan their exports, but market needs drove their growth by rapidly elevating demand for their home shopping vehicle solutions, over three continents.

PATTESONS GLASS LTD

David Mann
Managing Director

Established in 2004, Pattesons is a distributor, agent and wholesaler of glass jars, bottles and closures. Employing 40 staff which can rise to nearly 50 in the busy months. The company has exported since 2006. Their main markets are Ireland, Italy, France, Sweden, Denmark, East Africa, Romania and the USA.

David Mann says, "Our first foray into exporting is to this day one of our major achievements – delivering a 40ft HQ container into the mountains to a tribe of Alaskan Indians who produce hibiscus Jam!"

Top tip for exporting: "Before working with a new country, understand its cultures, laws and taxes – visit trade shows and build up a knowledge of the market and any differences there might be. We used OMIS reports from DBT to gain further knowledge, these were very useful to not only tell us about the potential customer base but also the competition! Lastly – don't be scared, it's a whole new playing field!"

PAXMAN COOLERS LTD

Richard Paxman OBE
Chief Executive Officer

This side effect is widely recognised as one of the most traumatic associated with cancer treatment. Paxman exports to 60 markets globally, with offices in Canada, Sweden and the USA, and regional managers in France, India, Spain and Singapore. The USA continues to be a key focus for the business however Asia will become more significant through 2023/24 with a potential launch in China hopefully thereafter.

Richard Paxman comments, "I am incredibly passionate about exporting and strongly believe it can be the answer to growth and improved productivity. Export is 90 % of our business and the USA is 50% of our total business. Our vision is that no matter where in the world you are, no matter who you are, nor your financial position, you have access to our technology."

"For me, the top tip is that export is all about relationships. Ensure you understand the market, the people, the place, the regulatory environment and how you will get paid. The best way to do this is by getting on a plane, visiting the market, and beginning to build relationships. We often joke in my international team #ToGrowWeMustFly."

PERATECH HOLDCO LTD

Jon Stark
Executive Officer

Peratech create revolutionary tactile-sensing and haptic-feedback user experiences by integrating their proprietary sensors, embedded electronics, and control software into consumer, commercial, automotive and medical devices. ## SALTAIRE BREWERY LTD

Nick Helliwell
Sales and Marketing
Director

Saltaire Brewery is based on the outskirts of the UNESCO World Heritage site of Saltaire in Yorkshire. It's range of products include Blonde, their flagship beer, Triple Choc, a multi-award-winning speciality stout and Velocity, a citrusy session IPA.

The brewery began in 2006 and now has over 50 employees. It has been exporting for almost 10 years and although overseas sales currently represent a relatively small proportion of turnover, this is growing rapidly. Scandinavia, Eastern and Southern Europe and the Far East are core export markets, which continue to grow.

Their expertise lies in being an SME that has actively and purposefully grown their exporting from little more than a few small, reactive sales per year, to strong, fruitful relationships with partners in multiple markets. This journey was taken both with the support of the DBT and by gaining independent experience and advice along the way. Having themselves benefited from the support of those around them, Saltaire Brewery are always happy to share their story with anyone new to exporting.

Nick Helliwell says "Never underestimate the importance of relationship, capability and scale, they're just as important as product and branding. Understanding the commercial model is key too, ensuring everyone in the chain makes a margin, while getting the product on the shelf at a sensible price, and not just gathering dust!"

SPICE KITCHEN LTD

Sanjay Aggarwal
Co-Founder

Sanjay Aggarwal is the cofounder of Spice Kitchen, together with his mum Shashi. Sanjay founded the business on Christmas Day in 2012 as a retirement hobby for his mum, and together they have grown a kitchen table idea into a thriving small business.

Spice Kitchen creates bold, beautiful spice blends and spice tin collections for people who love to adventure through cooking. They are passionate about making spices easy to cook with and making big flavours accessible to everyone. The business love to share incredible inspirational recipe content and, in 2023, published their first cookery book, all the while demystifying spices and championing experimentation in the kitchen. Each tin contains high-quality, hand-blended spices from around the world.

Sanjay says "We have been delighted to win two Gift of the Year Awards – most recently in 2022 – and multiple Great Taste Awards for our products. Our products make incredible gifts, and our traditional Masala Dabbas (spice tins) come wrapped in colourful, recycled sari material. Our Dabbas are designed to be kept forever and treasured as a go-to kitchen companion."

Spice Kitchen have created relationships across 500+ independent retailers across the UK, including Selfridges, John Lewis and Lakeland, and have expanded into international markets including Ireland, Belgium and Dubai. Their plans are to expand further into America and recently we completed a trade mission to New York, supported by DBT.

Sanjay's top exporting tip: Without question, get in touch with the DBT and get matched with a local representative who can help you on your journey. I did this right from the start and have received amazing guidance along the way which saved so much time, money and energy. I've realised that there is a whole world of opportunity out there for Spice Kitchen which I wouldn't have known about had I not reached out for that support in the first instance.

SURE PURITY LTD

Gary Robson
Chief Executive Officer

Gary Robson founded Sure Purity Limited in 2016. The company is based in Blaydon on Tyne and is an award-winning manufacturer of specialised filtration systems for the beverage industry. Their technology is used throughout the industry and is a critical component to ensuring consumer safety. Since 2020, the use of the product has been made a mandatory requirement by two of the largest soft drink brand owners and is being sold worldwide.

Sure Purity has seen rapid growth doubling turnover every year since launching its core product range in 2019, now present in over 100 countries, the company has earned a reputation for providing high quality products at competitive prices and is known for providing a high level of knowledgeable support to its client base.

Sure Purity products are sold through a network of authorised, specialist sales and service partners throughout the world. This network continues to expand as new partners are added.

The company was recognized in 2022 for its rapid international sales growth by being awarded the prestigious Queens Award for International Trade.

Gary's top tip on exporting: "Exporting is not easy, success is not made by chance or luck, a thorough knowledge of your target country is required, understanding the cultural differences and the way business is done is essential, above all, be clear on what your USP(s) is/are and how it/they fulfil the needs of your target client base."

Jason Iftakhar
Managing Director

Swifty Scooters launched to critical acclaim in 2011 with its first innovative product SwiftyONE, a premium foldable kick-scooter for adults. Since then, the company has been developing new ways to move around congested cities. With a small team of eight at its Manchester headquarters,

Swifty Scooters exports its products all around the world. Exports account for around 50% of turnover, with main export markets including the USA, South Korea, Australia, Thailand and Singapore. The company aims to grow its sales in the USA and New Zealand.

Jason, Managing Director says “DBT has helped with company checks in new territories, supported us on a trade missions to South Korea and Japan and advised on changes needed to our products to meet overseas regulations. Most companies like ours have a global presence thanks to the internet, so we plan to continue reaping the benefits from exporting and hope other businesses realise that if we can do it, so can they.”

TURNTIDE DRIVES LTD

Chris Pennison
Senior Vice President
Strategic Operations

Turntide Transport brought together three well know Northeast based electrification companies whose DNA can traced back to the 1960's. The three businesses were acquired by US Based Company Turntide Technologies during 2021 to form Turntide Transport, who support customers across all the transport sectors as they look to decarbonise, and the transition to a Net Zero transport offering.

Turntide Technologies has various business verticals in the decarbonisation space and has a manufacturing footprint globally.

Turntide Transports offerings of Energy storage, Power electronics, and e/ pumps, e/fans, and motors allow our customers to obtain system level solutions for electrification from one supplier.

The three Transport businesses currently account for nearly £45m of group turnover, with products being exported globally via thier customers, or directly to customers with end uses across the globe. Their next target market for the business is in the Middle East area.

Chris' top exporting tip: "As our business grew, we knew we needed to export our products, managing shipping of products outbound to customers globally and returning products back into the UK means having a strong global logistics partner who can support is key.

Also understanding the markets, you are supplying into is also key, ad all business is based on relationships, build good relationships locally and the business grows. Finally make sure you use all the government help you can, understand trade tariffs, cultures, licences, local business etiquette are all keys to success."
